And for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced at sages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects, and fewer yet the communities anywhere which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary ergans, it is also the pleasantest and asfer remedy that can be employed for infants and young per sons. Parents should have it in store against the insiduous enemy that steals upon them unprepared. It was eatied to order by James H. Vawter, Esq.; D. C. Jones was then called to the Chair, and E. H. Ransom, was appointed Secretary. On motion a co : mittee of five was appointed to prepare resolutions for the com ention, consisting of Messis. New, Swarthout, McCammon, Myres, and Wildey. The committee then returned the following

5. Resolved, That James Buchanan, in the appointment of Robert J. Walker, Governor of Kanasa Territory, made a most excellent selection—combining ability, honesty and faithfulness to the Constitution; that we endorse to the fullest extent the course which has been pursued by Governor Walker, believing that he has been governed by a high and just sense of duty toward the whole people of Kanasa, and that he has in no instance been influenced in the slightest degree by unworthy or sectional motives.

6. Resolved, That the course of the Black Republican party has given "aid and comfort" to a band of political desperados, who under the sacred name of "freedom" has sacrificed property, life, and almost their country to their own inordinate ambition.

The following that he has shaken off his party ties, taken position of hostility to the Administration, or don anything but very respectfully differ from the President as to the propriety and policy of the Lecompton Convention. In principle he and Mr. Buchanan are entirely agreed. Mr. Buchanan thinks it would have been better if the Convention had submitted the whole of the organic law of Kansas to the people, and so thinks Mr. Douglas. Mr. Buchanan thinks, however, that as the Convention were not legally obliged to submit any other part of the Constitution than that concerning ing slavery; and as they have given "all the white male inhabitants of the Territory of Kansas, of full age, on the 21st of December, 1857," an opportunity to express their opinions fairly and ex-plicitly on that great issue, that it would be wiser and better, in the interest of the Territory and of the whole country, to admit Kansas under the Le-compton Constitution, and thus remove the Kan sus question from the sphere of national politics. Mr. Douglas holds that the submission of the whole Constitution should be made an indispensa-ble condition to the admission of the new State, and takes several technical objections to the ac tion of the Convention, which (he claims) strong-Currency is not coming in freely and the ly support his argument; but on no question in-volving a principle, is there any difference be tween him and Mr. Buchanan and the great body of the Democratic party who support the President's views. The only difference really is, as to the expediency of the admission of the state of Kansas into the Union under the Lecompton Constitution. Be-cause Mr. Douglas differs with the majority of his party, and with the administration which that par-ty placed in power, on a point of expediency,— In uncurrent Money there is less activity, and not, we repeat, of principle,—we see no reaso why he should be "read out" of the Democrati why he should be "read out" of the Democratic party, or so eagerly read in to the Republican party. We believe, also, that the "split in the ranks of the Democracy," which the organs of the isms allude to with such evident satisfaction, and hope to see realized, is even more unlikely than the alleged political union of Stephen A. Douglas, the denouncer of Abolitionism, Sectionalism, and Free-Soilism,—the author of the Kenzes Methods the section of the Section 1. The dealings at our Corn Exchange present a striking contrast to the cheerful activity which has distinguished them in former seasons. Prof Holloway, the great physician and philanthropist, reverses both these maxims. This, it appress, what they have already done. I has, it appears to us, is a course that every friend of humanity must approve. Mr. Glancey Jones from the Committee on Ways and Means reported a bill authorizing the issue of treasury notes: the bill making an appropriation for the support of the Indian Department and the Civil and Diplomatic appropriation bills. The House then went into a committee of the whole on the treasury note bill, similar to that in troduced in the Senate.

Mr. J. Glancey Jones was unwilling to press the consideration of this bill unless the House would give its consent with some degree of unanimity.

opposed an immediate consideration of the bill. They believed that the great moment of the bill demanded that it shou d be well determined upon. After further debate, the resolution was adopted, referring to a select committee of five, the accounts of the late Clerk, with power to report accounts of the late Clerk, with power to report at any time, and send for persons and papers. Mr. Fletcher, said he was gratified to see this evidence of an improvement in the way of leg-islation. He recollected when the gentleman from Pennsylvania, (Mr. Grow in the last session of Congress,) had reported bills relating to the territories, and caused a vote to be taken upon them by moving the previous question, not even an amendment being permitted. The land bills had been similarly forced through. Mr. Grow denied that he had ever repoted a.

Mr. Glancey Jones gave notice that he would ask for a consideration of the bill until Monday.

At this point the committee rose.

On motion of Mr. Smith, of Virginia, a specia committee was appointed, charged with the examination of the subject of the public printing, and directed to extend their inquiries to the binding, engraving, and paper publication of the debates in Congressional Globe, &c.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas introduced a hill SENATE.—Mr. Douglas introduced a bill to authorize the people of Kansas to form a Constitution and State Government, preparatory to their admission into the Union, upon an equal footing with the original States..

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Senator Douglas' bill introduced in the Senate oday, provides for a board of five persons, appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, to make an enumeration of the inhabitants and a fair apportionment of members of Convention, an election held on a day designated by the board, not less than nine of the Territory on the 21st of December, and who shall have resided three months next to the said election in the county in which he offers his

The bill secures personal and political rights to the people, including those of speech and the press.

the Treasury Note Bill.

Mr. Hunter, while explaining the provisions the bill, said that although the crisis in commercial circles was perhaps past, yet there would not be a general revival of trade before the last of April or first of May. Before that time the money now proposed to be raised would be needed by the Treasury Department.

Mr. Seward said he thought that there was clear necessity for the issue of notes, but the bill is not sufficiently guarded in several particulars. It had no limitation as to the time during which It had no limitation as to the time during which these notes might be issued. It was the opinion that the revenues to be collected during the present year would meet all deficiencies, and there would be another session of Congress next year, when any further action might be taken which seemed necessary. Therefore it is proposed to limit the bill to the beginning of the next session. He thought $10,000,000 would be sufficient, and the rate of interest contemplated would be too the rate of interest contemplated would be too high. Four per centum would procure all the money of which the government might be in need of.

Mr. Hunter had no objection to limiting the time, but a large surplus is needed to carry on the government. The Senators have the experience of the Secretary of the Treasury to justify in supposing that it would be safe to issue this amount, or as much thereof as he might find

The surplus in the Treasury has been rapidly diminishing ever since the suspension of specie payment by the banks.

The proceedings were here interrupted by a message from the House, announcing the death of Mr. Montgomery, of Pennsylvania, when Mr. Bigler pronounced an eulogy upon the character of the deceased.

Mr. Hunter resumed—As to the rate of interest, he had no idea that the notes would be issued at six per cent., but it was better to fix that rate as the maximum. He presumed that the Secretary would try the market at three per cent.

Mr. Simmons vindicated the banks from the charge in the President's Message, that they were the cause of the present commercial revolution, and thought that they ought not to be called irresponsible institutions. The evils were the effect of speculation. Productive labor was the only sure basis of wealth. The change of duties at the last session, which was made in order to deplete the Treasury, had encourged speculation. He advocated a protective tariff as the means of preventing England from attaining that commercial ascendancy to which she has been directing all her efforts ever since she found that she could not conquor us by arms. He only wanted ten millions, and would vote for the bill with that reduction.

IMPROVED, 1857. For Grinding Corn. Cob. Hominy or Meas and General Stock Feed.

Mean and General Stock Feed.

We caim or this Mill a superiority over all others now better he public, on account of easy adjustment, simplicity of construction, economy of power, and rapid gridin.

For its not contain ement by which the grinding surfaces can be tenewed tyleasure, by any person, at a small cost; thereby removing all objection on the score of durability. The late improvement, patented February, 3h, 1856, with the combination of Crushers and Saw-Teeth Segments does away entirely with the accumulation of Cob at the top of the Mill, which is now a great objection to all other feed mills.

Lythic Mill, the Corn and Cob, pass through together. eed mills.

In this Mill, the Corn and Cob pass through together

In this Mill, the Corn and Cob pass income together making an easy and uniform draught for the team, and requiring but one at just bolt or screw; it can be regulated to grind fine or coarse at pleasure, or to set it very coarse, converts it at once into a Superior Corn Shellor. The Stock Grower and Farmer can save 30 or 40 bushels of Corn in each 100 by the use of this Mill, and having once experienced its benefits, will never return to the wasteful practice of feeding corn in the ear. The Star Mill still Ahead on the 24th of December, at Wabashlown.

N. B.—We the undersigned citizens of Wabash County, having seen Leavitt's Excelsior Young America, Scott & Hedge's Little Giant and Joyce's Star Mill, each thoroughly tested in this place, and we take pleasure in saying that in our opinion, the Star Mill is entirely superior to all others. In one of the trials we witnessed, the Star Mill ground seven and a half tushels of Corn, while the Little Giant ground three and a half bushels—(the Young America was so far behind the others, that it does not deserve a notice;) and with less power than was applied to the Little Giant. II. IIANNA, B. LASSELLE, E. KEYS, II. W. HANNA. A late Trial Test in Sallivan, Indiana On the 11th da of August a great contest came off on the 12blic Squirs, Sullivan, between Scott and Hedges' double cone Little Giant Corn Mill and Joice's Star Corn Mill at which the committee appointed to decide on the mer'ts of the machines after s-eing them thoroughly tested in several different ways of grinding, and examining the construction of the two mills, and made the following report:

of Piamo Fortes, Harmoniums and Melodeons, in plain and ornamented cases, made from the best materials, and warranted to stand in any climate.

Mr. Hunt-Dea Sir: I have ground with the No. 3 Star Mill purchased of you, 20 bushels of born in chour, and believe I will save at least one-third by feeding my Corn as your Mill prepares it. I would not be without one for three times the cost.

FOUNTAIN, Co., Ind., 1856.

Mr. Hunt. - Dear Sir: I think you can sell several mil's in my settlement. After testing your mill I am well sa's-isfled with it, as it grinds twice as fast as the "Y ang Amrice Mill." which was tested by my neighbor, Joshua Duncan, and proved to be a worthless Mill. He has since bought an interest in my Star Mill.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN J. DUNCAN. Mr. Hunt & Co.—Sirs: I purchased one of your Star Corn and Cob Mills last winter, and I can recommend it to the public to be a good Mill, and preferable to the Giant Mill as I used one of them before purchasing yours. I consider the Star Mill much the best Will, add think every Farmer should use one for feeding purposes. SOLOMON BECK, Commissioner of Boone Co. April 28, 1857.

SOLOMON BEUN, Commence Co., Ind., 1856.

DAYTON, Tippecance Co., Ind., 1856.

Mr. Hunt Sir: After testing your Mill, I consider the strength and rapid grinding of it superier to all others.

Respectfully yours,

M. C. GRAFT.

Certificate.—I hereby certify that I have this day, after thoroughly testing one of J. O. Joyce's Star Corn Mills, purchased the same, and am well pleased with the entire operation of the Mill. In my opinion the Mill is fully equal to the recommendations which have been given it. I have also changed my Little Giant Mill, which I have had for over two years, in part payment for the Star Mill. I am well satisfied that the Star Mill is decidedly superior to the Little Giant in its grinding qualities and of much easier draft. I would recommend all Stock feeders to purchase the Star Mill in preference to all mills with which I am acquainted.
